Cash boost could save jobs at plant

BY JOHN MORGAN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

NEARLY £2 million of public money could be pumped into the pork industry to help save jobs at a local plant.

VION Food Group, which operates a plant at Little Wrating, is in talks over an investment of up to £1.8 million in its supply chain from the East of England Development Agency (EEDA), St Edmundsbury Borough Council and Suffolk County Council.

In January, VION warned that up to 470 workers – from a workforce of 800 – faced redundancy after announcing it would close the abattoir and butchery at Little Wrating.

Now EEDA and the councils have given backing to VION's plans to move its cooked meats operation from Malton, North Yorkshire, to Little Wrating.

Geoffrey Rivers, chief executive of the borough council, told the Weekly News that if the funding comes after another six weeks of talks, the number of redundancies could be cut to around 350.

Mr Rivers said: "For every job you save in Haverhill, I suspect there are another 10 in the supply chain for the pig industry. That is why we need to protect it."

He added that the next six weeks would see the councils and EEDA check that the investment, likely to be a mix of grants and loans, does not contravene state aid laws.

MPs take closer look at campaign's turbine fight

A BLIMP has been flown above the fields of Linton and Great Chesterford to show the heights turbines will reach at a planned wind farm.

MPs Sir Alan Haselhurst and James Paice visited the site with campaigners against the proposed scheme on Saturday to hear about the potential problems they claim could be caused by eight 125m turbines.

Also touring the site on the day were Cllr Jim Ketteridge, leader of Uttlesford District Council, and Cllr Julie Redfern, district councillor for the Chesterfords.

Bill Thomas, chairman of Stop Linton Wind Farm, and James Hamilton owner of Park Farm, which is next to the proposed site, talked to the MPs about potential noise problems, health and safety and the visual impact of the proposed turbines.

Mr Thomas said: "Emphasis was put on the adverse effect the wind farm would have on the character of the surrounding landscape and the lives of those living, working and travelling through it."

Sir Alan Haselhurst said: "You've only got to look at the countryside around me to realise what a blot on the landscape these turbines will be, quite apart from issues of health, quite apart from whether or not onshore wind farms can actually make any significant contribution to our energy needs."

Mr Hamilton said: "This is one of the only large areas of open countryside around that's not bisected by a roadway, but at the same time has a good network of bridleways and footpaths.

"These turbines will completely destroy the visual amenity and people's enjoyment of the landscape."

Cash 'should be spent on repairing potholes'

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

POTHOLES in roads have led to a protest by town councillors about the way cash has been allocated by the roads authority.

Five Labour members of Haverhill Town Council have raised the issue after Suffolk County Council allocated £2.2 million into reserves in this year's budget.

The Labour councillors, Patrick Hanlon, Maureen Byrne, Lisa Carr, Ann Samuels and Mary Martin, have argued that the cash should instead have been spent on repairing roads – particularly those in the Haverhill area.

Cllr Hanlon highlighted holes in the road on the A1307 near Haverhill's Sainsbury store, in Queensway on the Parkway estate and in The Pightle, near the site for the new Tesco supermarket.

He said: "They've already filled the hole near Sainsbury's once and it came out and now they've had to do it again. But it's absolutely atrocious."

He said the county council had reserves of around £74 million.

"They should be getting interest on the money, but under the current circumstances it would be better spent on the roads."

A county council spokeswoman said: "The severe winter has predominantly caused the problem, which is not confined to Haverhill. There have been Patchwork: the broken up road surface on the A1307 near the Focus roundabout.

Picture: Richard Patterson 544062.

similar problems up and down the country."

She said the A1307 was due to be completely resurfaced in May.

The spokeswoman added that the work near the Tesco site would be carried out before the new store opens and the Queensway potholes would be inspected and "repaired as necessary".

She said temporary repairs were carried out as soon as possible after road problems were reported to comply with council targets. But sometimes the repair needed to be done again.

Bid starts to get views on council shake-up

A SERIES of public meetings to get people's views on the council-shake up in Suffolk got under way yesterday.

Suffolk County Council and Mid Suffolk District Council, which support a single unitary council for the whole of the county, have organised the series of meetings which started last night at Mildenhall College of Technology.

The last meeting is scheduled to be at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Haverhill on April 28 at 7pm.

The two councils argue that a single authority for the county would be the "best value for money option."

But Forest Heath and St Edmundsbury district councils, together with Waveney District Council, are pressing for three councils for the county – one in the west, one in the east and a separate council for the area including Ipswich and Felixstowe.

The Boundary Committee has opened up further consultation on the reorganisation of councils until May 14.

Police boss slams bid for late take-out trade

BY JOHN MORGAN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A HIGH street fast-food takeaway is a magnet for drunken fighting and is "only interested in making money" and "serving poor quality food", according to scathing police claims.

USA Chicken, in Queen Street, Haverhill, had its application for extended late-night opening hours rejected after councillors heard objections from Suffolk police.

In a scathing letter to St Edmundsbury Borough Council, Haverhill neighbourhood inspector Andrew Mason listed 18 incidents of disorder outside USA Chicken in 2007 and 2008 – including group fights, a stabbing and an assault occasioning actual bodily harm.

Insp Mason said in his letter: "I have discussed the reasons for this submission with the manager of the premises who tells me the intention is to stay open to serve those people leaving the public houses at 2am and that they would pre-prepare the food, simply serve it and then shut on time."

"This misses the whole point to me and demonstrates no investment in the community of Haverhill whatsoever. They are only interested in making money, serving poor quality food and making an extra pound between 2am and 2.30am."

"During the discussion, I got the distinct feeling the owner felt that anything that happens outside USA Chicken is the police's responsibility which is simply not acceptable."

Ibrahim Sancı, owner of the takeaway, said of the comments on quality of food: "The police can't say something like this. It is not his job."

Mr Sancı said the quality of food at his takeaway was good, adding: "I have got 15 years experience – I know how to cook."

He also said he has done everything possible to co-operate with police.

The council's Licensing Act sub-committee turned down the application for extra half hours on Friday and Saturday nights.

Insp Mason also said in his letter that "poor management" meant there was often no one at USA Chicken with sufficient English to communicate with the police.

He added: "One of my serious concerns is that if someone rings the police and says 'come quickly' then hangs up my officers will invariably respond with blue lights and two tones putting themselves and other members of the public at risk."

Mr Sancı said that he now has a worker with good English, adding: "I don't get any trouble recently."

Crews say goodbye to the 'Fireman Sam' look

THE days of the traditional firefighters' helmets are gone with the introduction of modern head gear.

Fire crews in Suffolk were set to start using the latest helmets on Wednesday this week, making the "Fireman Sam" look a thing of the past.

The county's fire and rescue service has chosen helmets made by French company MSA Gallet after trials of two different types.

They include integral goggles and visor as well as a torch. They also offer better head and neck protection than the helmets they replace which have been in service for the past 10 years.

Firefighters at Newmarket fire station are among those already equipped with the new helmets ready for their official introduction.

Firefighter Marc Elliott, based at Newmarket, was one of the Suffolk crew members who trialled the new helmets for several months before a decision was taken to order them from MSA Gallet, which also makes helmets for military forces and pilots.

He said: "The new helmets offer greater protection and are more practical. They also give a more modern image."

"Here at Newmarket where many of our calls are to road collisions, they will be much better for us when we are using cutting equipment."

"Most fire services across the country are adopting new helmets."

The introduction of the helmets coincides with a change in job titles and insignia for senior officers.

Leading firefighters are becoming crew managers and sub officers will be known as watch managers.

The new helmets already have the new rank markings.

Cash may save jobs

Mr Rivers said the investment would aim to improve standards in the pig industry.

A VION spokesman said the final number of redundancies was "still being worked" on, with discussions with unions forming part of a 90-day consultation that began on January 19.

He added: "It demonstrates what can be delivered by working in partnership."

The spokesman said the company would be looking to "start the process of building up the Haverhill operation to build a centre of excellence for cooked meats".

An EEDA spokesman said: "A financial support package of up to £1.8 million has been presented to VION."

"With the pig industry being such a strong and important sector in terms of the region's economy, the primary objective for new investment is to retain as many of the functions and jobs at the Haverhill factory as possible, retaining a base to allow for longer term expansion of the facility when the economy improves."

Man in weapons case faces jail

A MAN has been warned he faces a lengthy jail sentence after he terrified two children who saw him armed with a knife.

Lance Meikle, 32, was arrested near a school in Haverhill on February 15 after police were alerted.

Ipswich Crown Court heard he was abusive to the police and had earlier confronted members of the public as well as terrifying the children.

Mr Recorder Martyn Levett told Meikle, of Willow Close, Haverhill, that it was "more than likely" he would get a lengthy prison sentence due to his long history of committing offences while drunk.

The Recorder agreed to adjourn sentencing to allow the probation service to prepare a report on Meikle, who admitted illegal possession of a bladed weapon.

But he ordered that Meikle should be kept in custody until his next court appearance.

He has already spent 38 days on remand in prison.

Prosecutor Neil Macaulay said that Meikle accepted that he had an alcohol problem, usually starting drinking when he got up at about 7.30am and continuing all day.

Mr Macaulay said that whatever sentence was passed by the court he would be making an application for an anti-social behaviour order (Asbo) to be issued against Meikle, which would prohibit him from drinking or being drunk in public places.

Hall of fame calls for Haverhill museum

A HAVERHILL museum will show off inventions from the 70s and 80s at a prestigious national show – including one of the most ridiculed vehicles of all time.

Haverhill's Centre for Computing History has been asked to provide a "gadget hall of fame" for next month's 'Gadget Show Live', an offshoot of the Five TV programme set to attract 30,000 visitors.

Among the centrepieces of the hall of fame will be a Sinclair C5, an electric vehicle that was much mocked when it launched in 1985, and a giant Rubik's Cube made by Haverhill firm Bradnam Joinery.

The centre, the only UK museum dedicated to computers and their social impact, will also display key machines from its collection, such as the Altair 8800.

Jason Fitzpatrick, founder of the centre, said: "The show organisers approached us because they were already hiring equipment from us for the TV programme. They said, 'Do you think you could do the gadget hall of fame'.

"One of the most important things on show will be the Altair 8800, the first personal computer. This sparked Microsoft into being. Bill Gates was at university when it came out. He gave up university and went into writing software for it."

Mr Fitzpatrick said he bought the C5 especially for the show, adding: "I've wanted a C5 for a long time and this was a good excuse to get one."

Also on show will be 70s colour TVs, vintage games consoles and early "brick" mobile phones.

Mr Fitzpatrick is hoping that being on a big stage will attract more visitors to Haverhill.

He said: "This is a huge opportunity for us to put the centre in front of the public, with an estimated 30,000 people expected."

The Gadget Show Live is at the NEC Birmingham from April 17 to 19.

Doubts over schools cash

FUNDING for building work at schools may not be forthcoming from the Government as expected, according to a pressure group opposing an education shake-up.

Middle schools in the Newmarket and Mildenhall areas are due to close in 2012 as part of the latest round of reorganisation in Suffolk. Middle schools in Haverhill are due to close earlier as the reorganisation to adopt a two-tier education system started there two years ago.

Although Suffolk County Council has agreed to the switch to two-tier schools, legal notices about the closures and other changes are still out for consultation.

Pressure group Save Suffolk Middle Schools (SSMS) has pointed to the shelving of plans for a redevelopment of West Suffolk College, Bury St Edmunds, due to a withdrawal of Government funding totalling £58 million.

The group said: "This exactly mirrors the situation with the Building Schools for the Future (BSF) funding that Suffolk County Council are relying upon to make their proposed reorganisation of schools feasible.

"In other parts of the country, the BSF funding has arrived years behind schedule and often significantly reduced from that originally promised.

"Despite this, Suffolk County Council education officers have stated categorically, at a variety of public meetings, that there is no problem with funding and that everything will go ahead according to their apparently 'set-in-stone' schedule.

"Even a cursory look at the figures shows that they cannot possibly add up without the BSF funding arriving on time and in full. In the current financial climate this seems unlikely, to say the least."

An SSMS spokesperson said: "Suffolk County Council are embarking upon a process involving financial mismanagement at its most extreme and the reorganisation should not be allowed to continue until all of the funding to complete the process is available and securely 'ring-fenced' for this purpose."

Cllr Patricia O'Brien, the county council's portfolio holder for children, schools and young persons' services, said: "This programme of transformation will be supported by significant capital funding from the county council's school capital programme, schools devolved capital, any capital receipts and funding through the Building Schools for the Future programme."

Pupils picture a greener future

VILLAGE schoolchildren designed posters highlighting environmental issues as part of a link with a local firm.

The contest was one of the activities at Kedington Primary School supported by Haverhill firm Herbert Retail.

It also sponsored a recent school visit to the wind turbine at Swaffham, Norfolk.

Julian Hope, environmental and quality manager for Herbert Retail, said: "We believe that by sharing our knowledge and educating people about environmental issues when they are very young, we can promote a greater culture of awareness, responsibility and ownership of environmental issues in our next generations.

"We are proud to work alongside Kedington Primary School to support the great work that they are doing."

Winners were Olivia Hanagan, Poppy Shepherd and Jacob Overall who each received a certificate and a prize of £20 WH Smith token.

Three years in prison for rooftop siege man

A MAN involved in a rooftop siege has been jailed for more than three years.

Charlie Wright, 24, held police at bay for more than an hour while pulling and kicking tiles from roofs of flats in Haverhill.

He caused nearly £6,000 damage in the incident at Primrose Hill, Haverhill, last October.

At one stage a police officer managed to grab Wright through a window but he got away, leaving the officer holding his coat. A police helicopter was called in to monitor the scene, in which seven roofs were damaged.

The incident happened after Wright argued with the owner of the convenience store at Primrose Hill over a bottle of cola.

Wright, of Exeter Court, Haverhill, was cleared of illegal possession of a knife and aggravated burglary at an earlier hearing.

But he admitted affray, seven offences of causing criminal damage and breaching an anti-social behaviour order.

He was jailed for a total of 44 months, at Ipswich Crown Court, by Mr Recorder Martyn Levett who said the 154 days Wright had already spent in custody on remand could be deducted from the sentence.

The court heard it was the second time that Wright had been involved in a roof-top stand-off.

He also climbed on to the roof of the Cangle Junction housing support group in Haverhill in 2005.

Azza Brown, prosecuting, said Wright had threatened police officers during the Primrose Hill incident and said he would harm their families.

Neil Macaulay, in mitigation, said Wright had gone to the building and broken into a flat in order to "spook" the occupant who runs Primrose Mini Market after an earlier argument with him.

Mr Macaulay said that while Wright accepted he was in breach of the Asbo, it had not involved any violence.

Students get taste of Italy

THREE dance students from the Haverhill area have been finding their feet in Italy.

Reggie Bugg, from Brandon, Nakita Newcombe, from Great Cornard, and Mark Hones, from Kedington, were among the E0.45 Dance Theatre members from West Suffolk College who visited Italy as artists in residence at the OZU (Officina Zone Umane) arts centre in the Sabina Mountains, north-east of Rome.

The students devised a physical theatre performance based on the Oliver Twist during the two-week project.

Mila Bogen, the project

Artists in residence: Reggie Bugg, Nakita Newcombe and Mark Hones on a visit to Rome.

co-ordinator, said: "It was a very hard and eye-opening experience for the students.

"They were living and working together. They had to develop a professional attitude towards their colleagues and other residents of the centre.

"They learned how to run a project in a foreign country – and tasted a broad variety of Italian cuisine."

After two weeks of hard work the participants gave a very well received performance to local people, accompanied by an Italian feast of local dishes.

In their spare time the students were immersed in Roman art, visiting the capital as well as local beauty spots in the surrounding area.

The project has been funded by Leonardo, part of the European Commission's Lifelong Learning Programme which aims to build a skilled workforce across Europe.

New grants to warm up homes

COUNCIL grants totalling more than £350,000 are now available to help people on low incomes to make their homes warmer.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council's new Homes Assistance Policy took effect from April 1 and introduces a new thermal comfort grant.

The grant, worth up to £8,000, is designed to bring homes up to recommended thermal efficiency levels, and may cover work such as loft and cavity wall insulation, and installing central heating. It is part of a comprehensive package for people on low incomes, who do not qualify for help under the Government's Warm Front Scheme.

Cllr Sara Mildmay-White, cabinet member for community, said: "The recent borough-wide survey of private homes identified excess cold as the main hazard, potentially affecting 4,750 homes.

"The council has a corporate priority to improve the safety and well-being of our community and we have allocated £354,000 from our budget this year for our discretionary grant programme, including our new thermal comfort grant."

Details of how to apply for the scheme are on the council website, www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk or by calling environmental health on (01284) 757053.

'Savings' need closer look

Sir, Suffolk County Council Conservatives seem to be busy patting themselves on the back about the "savings" they have made. However, a closer examination reveals a far from rosy picture.

The public have not forgotten the appointment of the new chief executive on £218,000. That's £70,000 more than the previous incumbent and £30,000 more than the Prime Minister.

This year the council's contract with Customer Service Direct has gone up by 12 per cent to £31.7 million with no explanation. Since the Conservatives took power the number of council managers earning more than £50,000 has gone up dramatically.

At an estimated cost of £23 million they have also embarked on a very unpopular programme of middle school closures. They are borrowing money to pay for this. The savings they claim in adult care services include drastic service cuts and increased charges to the most vulnerable adults in our community. A report to the council last year stated that the budget for people with learning disabilities was now one of the lowest in the country.

As previously reported in the press, attendance by elderly people at day centres has dropped by nearly half in the two years since the Conservatives brought in charges for the first time. In addition more than three-quarters of home care service users must now pay, compared with less than a quarter when the Lib Dems and Labour were running the council.

It is difficult to gauge the extent of the misery this is causing to individuals or how badly it is affecting their quality of life. The Conservatives should be very careful not to crow too much about their achievements.

More 'carton banks' on way

RECYCLING residents in Suffolk have given an enthusiastic response to new "carton banks" – and more are coming.

The Suffolk Waste Partnership made the call to "wash and squash" when it

BY JOHN MORGAN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

launched the banks six months ago to make sure that paper-based liquid food and drink cartons are not ending up in landfill.

Milk, juice and soup cartons can currently be recycled at 31 sites throughout Suffolk, including all 18 Household Waste Recycling Centres. The Suffolk Waste Partnership has just negotiated a further 15 collection banks, which will be in place soon, making it possible to recycle cartons in many more locations – including rural ones.

Cllr Roy Barker, spokesman for the Suffolk Waste Partnership, said: "So far more than 3.25 tonnes of cartons from the carton banks have been diverted from landfill for recycling, with a further 7.5 tonnes collected from household waste sites.

"Well done to those of you who have been using them – let's see if we can increase that amount over the next six months with the advent of the new banks, the full list will be available on the website as soon as they are in."

The Gross rate is the contractual rate of interest payable before deduction of income tax at the rate specified by law (currently 20%).

The Net rate is the rate paid after income tax has been deducted (currently 20%).

The Annual Equivalent Rate (AER) is a notional rate which illustrates what the gross interest rate would be if interest was paid and added to the account annually. AERs on an account which pays monthly interest assumes interest is added to the account at the end of each month during the year. In practice, the option to have interest added in this way is not available on our Hallmark or 90 Day Notice monthly interest options.

The Tax-free rate is the contractual rate of interest payable where interest is exempt from income tax.

All the above rates are variable. Cash Individual Savings Accounts (ISAs), and Cash Child Trust Fund accounts, pay interest tax-free provided all terms and conditions of the account types are met. On all other accounts, interest will be paid at the net rate after the appropriate rate of income tax (currently 20%) has been deducted, or gross on receipt of the required declaration form. Where interest is paid net, the income tax may be reclaimed if the amount deducted exceeds the investor's tax liability. Higher rate taxpayers will have to pay the extra due (the difference between tax deducted at 20% and the higher rate of 40%). Tax assumptions are based on current legislation which may change in the future. Net rates are illustrative only and have been rounded to two decimal places. Full terms and conditions are available from all our branches. Cambridge Building Society complies with The Banking Code.

NOTICE TO EXISTING BORROWERS

With effect from 3rd April 2009, our Variable Home Loan Rate will decrease by 0.50% per annum to 2.50% p.a. The rate for all of our Tracker Mortgages will reduce by 0.50%. The Standard Variable Rate remains unchanged at 4.00% p.a. The Commercial Base Rate, for non owner-occupied residential loans, remains unchanged at 5.59% p.a. Under the annual review system, this change of interest will be reflected in the revised monthly payments effective from March 2010.

This notice does not apply to any mortgage account operated by interim review. Those borrowers will be notified separately.

If you have any queries about this rate change, please contact your nearest branch or telephone our Membership Services Department on 0845 601 3344

Healthy boost to fund for life

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A PROJECT aimed at making Suffolk the healthiest county in the UK in 20 years' time is to receive a £1.2 million boost.

Healthy Ambitions Suffolk is a county-wide partnership between public bodies, businesses and the voluntary sector. It plans to reach its aim by helping people lead healthier lifestyles.

Healthy Ambitions Suffolk was launched in November to inspire people to make small lifestyle changes, such as taking more exercise or improving their mental health, thereby making a big difference to their long-term health and wellbeing.

At its next meeting, the Healthy Ambitions Suffolk board will be told that NHS Suffolk, a lead partner in the initiative, will propose putting £1.2 million into a special fund to give the scheme a jump-start.

Dr Peter Bradley, director of public health for NHS Suffolk and Suffolk County Council, said the money will begin to help people make smarter choices and live healthier lives.

He said: "We will be encouraging communities and organisations needing financial help to make lifestyle changes to apply for awards from the fund."

Currently, Healthy Ambitions Suffolk has identified three priority areas for action: children and young people, older people and health in the workplace.

Examples of actions so far include chair-based exercise for older people, quitting smoking in the workplace and encouraging young people to take more exercise.

Over the next few months more projects will be added to cover existing and new priorities.

Taste of the new at cultural week

YOUNGSTERS broadened their horizons in a school culture week that brought a taste of India to the classroom.

Pupils at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College in Haverhill enjoyed everything from Indian music, arts and cuisine to a visit to Cambridge University.

Some pupils even enjoyed trips to New York and Bratislava in Slovakia, where they visited art galleries and museums.

Tom Hales, sixth form tutor and maths teacher, said: "The aim of culture week is to broaden pupils' horizons and really to encourage them to see beyond their own doorstep in a variety of different ways."

Pupils enjoyed a talk from a former journalist about working in the sector, as well as a PE session from RAF instructors.

Pupils also visited Cambridge University, with some getting lessons from members of the English faculty.

Fatality footage to curb death toll

MOTORISTS found flouting the law on the notorious A1307 have been shown harrowing footage and pictures of the potentially tragic consequences of their actions.

Police and Cambridgeshire Fire and Rescue Service officers teamed up to run a special day of action on the road last Thursday and were disappointed to find that, despite the fact several education days had already been held, drivers were spotted committing more than 50 motoring offences.

Anyone found breaking the law was asked to join officers at Linton fire station to view educational videos, including interviews with those who have lost loved ones in car accidents.

A total of 28 people have been killed on the 10-mile stretch of the A1307 between Haverhill and Cambridge in the past decade.

BY LAURA JEAN MORRIS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Mark Taylor, community safety officer for Cambridgeshire Fire and Rescue Service, said: "We fully support the day of action."

"Many drivers fail to realise the potentially fatal consequences of their driving."

"By watching interviews with families who have lost loved ones, and images of fatal road scenes it makes drivers think realistically about their own driving and the impact it could have on others."

Throughout the day, police officers issued 12 fixed penalty notices for use of hand-held mobile phones, five vehicle defect rectification notices, 18 fixed penalty notices for failure to wear seatbelts, two fixed penalty notices for cars with no valid MOT, two fixed penalty notices for vehicles with no valid insurance and four fixed penalty notices for speeding.

One vehicle was seized for having no insurance and a further 10 motorists were given warnings for various offences.

Sergeant Martin Monger said: "We have visited this road a number of times in the past few months and there are still some motorists who think they can break the law."

“Many drivers fail to realise the potentially fatal consequences of their driving.

Mark Taylor

"These people are risking their lives and the lives of others."

He added: "I hope these results send out a clear message to those who think it is acceptable to break the laws of the road that we will not tolerate their actions."

Crossing works to make walks to school safer

TEACHERS and pupils in Haverhill have been preparing School Travel Plans, working with Suffolk County Council to see what can be done to encourage parents and children to turn the school run into a walk or a cycle.

Work will also be carried out next month to provide safer crossing facilities at three schools in the area.

Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College will get a new zebra crossing on Burton End between Greenfields Way and North Avenue; Place Farm Primary School will see a "20's Plenty" area, two road narrowing points and a raised zebra crossing installed between Crowland Road and Chantry Road; and Coupals Primary School will benefit from an existing raised traffic calming feature in Chalkstone Way being converted to a full raised zebra crossing.

The projects are due to start on Monday and could last for up to four weeks.

The council hopes to keep disruption to a minimum and have most of it completed during the Easter holidays.

At times there may be a need for traffic control and in Camps Road a road closure and diversion route will be set up.

New police holding unit for 'vulnerable'

A NEW unit has opened to help people thought to be suffering from psychiatric problems.

The secure assessment unit at Wedgwood House, behind West Suffolk Hospital, Bury St Edmunds, means that people suspected of having an acute mental illness will no longer be held in police custody.

The unit, described as one of the best in the country, is a joint venture between Suffolk Mental Health Partnership NHS Trust and Suffolk police.

It will serve the west Suffolk area, including Newmarket and Haverhill, and is expected to receive one person a week.

Chief Inspector Chris Stokes said: "This development represents a significant advance in providing prompt and effective help to this vulnerable group of people. A police station is not ideal for people suffering acute mental health issues."

Help preserve rare tomato varieties for future

by Hannah Stephenson

If you're growing tomatoes this year and you want to add some exotic-sounding types to your menu – doing your bit for preservation at the same time – a host of endangered tomato varieties are being championed in a new campaign.

"Whippersnapper", "Tiger Tom" and "Ryder's Midday Sun" are some of the endangered tomato varieties being promoted in the, Dig Your Dinner campaign, an initiative by Seeds of Change, which has teamed up with organic growing charity, Garden Organic, to raise awareness of the benefits of diversity in variety.

Research shows that only 9 per cent of gardeners experiment with growing different varieties, but you can do your bit to help save 10 endangered tomato varieties for future generations if you join in the campaign, launched on March 31 and supported by celebrity gardener Rachel de Thame.

Varieties, such as the small plum variety "Auntie Midge's", "Bro'ad Ripple Yellow Currant", which produces masses of sweet-tasting, tiny yellow fruit up to mid-November and the mild "Pink Cherry", are available through Garden Organic's Heritage Seed Library, which holds a collection of more than 800 endangered vegetable varieties facing extinction.

"All the tomatoes have great flavour, are easy to grow whether on a windowsill, in a patio pot or vegetable plot, and are part of our British heritage which we should treasure and protect for future generations," Rachel de Thame says.

She offers the following tips: ■ Start small if you're a beginner. If you've limited space grow some tomatoes in a pot.

■ Try out some endangered varieties which have proved reliable, such as "My Girl", which has medium to large, plum-shaped fruits with few seeds, or "Kenilworth", a classic round, red sumptuous tomato with a sweet and herby flavour.

■ Spring is the time to sow your seeds. They're not hardy, so start them off inside – a greenhouse, or windowsill will do perfectly. Sow your seeds into a seed tray which has been filled with good quality seed compost, firmed gently and watered.

■ Once they start to put on growth, they'll need to be re-potted into larger containers to allow space for the rapidly developing root system. Keep moist and when the risk of late frosts has passed and the first flowers have appeared – usually some time in May – help the young plants to acclimatise gradually to outdoor conditions. Transfer them to their final growing position and secure the main stem to a sturdy cane. Keep them well fed and watered during the growing season.

■ Tomatoes can often be affected by whitefly. To combat this organically be vigilant and look out for the eggs on the underside of the leaves, spraying them off with a blast of the hose or wiping thoroughly by hand. Greenfly (aphids) are also common and can be swept away with thumb and forefinger.

■ Ladybirds feast on aphids, so encouraging them into your garden will also help to control them.

The recent sunny weather seems to have brought out the even sunnier blooms of daffodils of all shapes and sizes. There is a place in every garden for a clump of these spring beauties. For those who prefer more subtle tones, there are many varieties which produce cream or white blooms, including N. "Jack Snipe", with its long-lasting flowers with white petals and yellow trumpets, which is ideal for containers, or N. "Mount Hood", with white petals and creamy yellow trumpets.

Heartfelt farewell wins national prize

A Haverhill poet has won British poetry's biggest prize with a work about the "gardener's funeral" given to a friend's father.

Christopher James, who lives in Broad Street, won £5,000 after taking first place in the National Poetry Competition.

Past winners of the prize include Tony Harrison and Carol Ann Duffy.

Mr James, who published his first collection of poetry in 2006, told the Weekly News: "It is the poetry jackpot."

His winning poem, Farewell To The Earth, was sparked by a conversation with his friend Nick Keeble, programmer at Haverhill Arts Centre.

Mr James, 33, said: "Nick told me his father [Paul Newman-Keeble] had passed away and told me something about the burial which was really unusual.

"It was a gardener's funeral. He was buried in a willow coffin and in cotton, so he would be merging with what he loved. There was this extraordinary detail that he was buried next to his allotment plot."

Mr James said the poem is "an act of ventriloquism in which I am assuming the voice of Nick", adding: "The whole family have been very supportive on the whole thing."

The father in the poem is buried with "a potato in each hand", "a half bottle of pear cider to stave off the thirst" and a packet of sunflower seeds.

A video of Mr James reading the poem is featured on the YouTube website and he was interviewed at the ceremony by Griff Rhys-Jones for a forthcoming BBC television series on poetry. Mr James, father to Polly, 4, and Noah, 1, has led poetry workshops for youngsters in Haverhill.

Asked what poetry can do that prose cannot, he said: "If you write a really bad poem, you've only wasted two hours instead of two years.

"I think readers are looking for connection to things that happen in their own life, whether it is falling in love, a birth or death. It is about making an experience universal."

Mr James' collection of poetry, The Invention of Butterflies, is available from www.raggedraven.co.uk

The 2009 National Poetry Competition starts on April 14.

Farewell To The Earth

We buried him with a potato in each hand on New Year's Day when the ground was hard as luck, wearing just cotton, his dancing shoes plus a half bottle of pear cider to stave off the thirst.

In his breast pocket we left a taxi number and a packet of sunflower seeds; at his feet was the cricket bat he used to notch up a century against the Fenstanton eleven.

We dropped in his trowel and a shower of rosettes then let the lid fall on his willow casket.

The sky was hard as enamel; there was a callus of frost on the face of the fields.

Dust to dust but this was no ordinary muck.
The burial plot was by his allotment, where the water butt brimmed with algae and the shed door swung and slammed as we shook back the soil.

During the service, my mother asked the funeral director to leave; take away some hair and the resemblance was too close and yet my father never looked so smart.

I kept expecting him to walk in, his brow steaming with rain, soil under his fingernails smelling of hot ashes and compost looking for fresh tea in the pot.

MP to meet police for briefing

AN MP will meet a police officer for an update on tackling crime in Haverhill.

Richard Spring, MP for West Suffolk, will meet Haverhill neighbourhood inspector Andrew Mason at the town's police station tomorrow.

Mr Spring said: "I like to keep in close contact with police officers in the constituency and to hear about any key issues affecting residents or about any particular problems or recurring incidents."

"I know from my interaction with the police throughout the constituency how much importance they attach to good community relationships and providing reassurance to residents."

"It will be good to have the opportunity of hearing from Inspector Mason about local initiatives to ensure that Haverhill and its surrounding villages receive the best possible service in both crime prevention and assistance when incidents take place."

Leisure centre set to take on staff

BY JOHN MORGAN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

HAVERHILL'S leisure centre has started a recruitment drive ahead of a reopening that will bring 50 jobs to the town.

Abbeycroft Leisure, which runs the centre, expects to reopen in the first week of July following a year-long refurbishment.

The 50 part and full-time jobs will cover a range of positions, including cleaners, sports coaches, swimming teachers and middle management.

Cllr John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, said in a report to councillors this week: "I am pleased to hear that work is progressing well with the Haverhill Leisure Centre refurbishment and that our partners, Abbeycroft Leisure, have started recruiting staff to be ready for the opening date."

"Abbeycroft Leisure will be recruiting to around 50 full and part-time jobs to work in the exciting newly-refurbished centre which, as well as providing very welcome employment opportunities, will make a huge contribution to the numbers of people who visit the town centre."

Boom: more jobs are on they way at the revamped leisure centre.

When the leisure centre reopens it will have a new pool changing area, a fitness suite extended for an extra 20 stations, a new children's play area in the first-floor canteen, a redecorated and re-floored sports hall and a new heating system.

Warren Smyth, Abbeycroft Leisure chief executive, said the number of new jobs would take the centre slightly above the number it had before it closed for refurbishment.

He added: "We are starting some limited recruitment now and will build up before the reopening.

"It will be a state-of-the-art leisure centre and we are hoping there will be significant interest."

He added of the exterior: "It looks fantastic. It will fit in with the cinema and the new development in that area."

On other developments, Cllr Griffiths told borough council members that "things continue to happen at pace in Haverhill".

Cllr Nigel Aitkens, cabinet member with responsibility for Haverhill, said in a report: "Work on the new Tesco is progressing rapidly. The refurbishment of Queen Street is being planned and is scheduled to take place over summer 2009 so that it is completed by the time Tesco opens."

"A new group, PATCH (Public Art in the Town Centre of Haverhill), is working with students from both upper schools on designing street furniture for Queen Street."

Firm starts up with 15 employees

A COMPANY that went into administration has had its equipment bought by another company – with an initial workforce of 15.

Sperling Retail Solutions, based in Manor Road, Haverhill, laid off 24 staff in March.

In a statement, Tayvin 406 Ltd said that "a group of private local investors has successfully purchased the manufacturing equipment of that company from the administrator".

The statement added: "A new venture will begin trading on March 31 under the name of Tayvin 406 Ltd from leasehold premises in Manor Road, Haverhill."

"The management team, David Gillett, Phillip Ince and Shirley Barber, all with long experience in the shopfitting industry, will start work immediately seeking new contracts from multiple retailers in the UK. A workforce of 15 has been employed initially, and it is hoped that this number will increase as the new venture becomes established."

The Weekly News tried to contact the company to gain further details, but the company did not respond.

Top job: Lynda Russell, Jobcentre Plus customer services director for East of England, hands the award to Nathan Smith, operations manager at Cineworld Haverhill.

Cinema scoops jobs award

HAVERHILL Cineworld has won an award for helping jobseekers back to work.

The cinema won the Recruitment Innovation Award at the 2009 LEP Awards, East of England region.

LEPs (Local Employment Partnerships) were introduced in March 2007 as a partnership between businesses and Jobcentre

BY JOHN MORGAN

Plus, to support the most disadvantaged jobseekers back into the workplace. The awards were the first opportunity to recognise the achievements of companies, partnerships and individuals.

In August 2008, while recruiting staff for the newly-built cinema, general manager Paul Willden spoke with an LEP co-ordinator to help with recruitment.

Mr Willden said: "As we were new to the town we turned to Jobcentre Plus to assist with finding suitable candidates. The LEP used a number of initiatives to advertise the recruitment process.

"Overall we saw approximately 130 people to fill 30 positions. As we operated an open, rolling process, we aimed to give everyone interested at least one interview.

He added: "It is a real testament to the fact that we recruited the very best people, that they are still here enjoying their jobs now."

Winners from each of the nine LEP regions will now go forward to the national finals in June.

Second showcase: The Plough team eagerly awaiting the real ale festival in their festival T-shirts.

Locally poured beer festival bucks the trend

WHILE many drinkers across the county are lamenting the demise of their local, one pub is bucking the trend and preparing to host its second beer festival.

Some 19 real ales will be available to try over the Easter weekend at Hundon's Plough Inn.

Publicans Kate and Kevin Wood agreed times were tough but it was important to keep championing real ale and in particular, locally produced real ale.

They said: "We are delighted to once again be showcasing a wonderful selection of ales from many local microbreweries. Essex, Suffolk and Norfolk continue to produce some of the very best ales in the country."

"This is something that locally we should be shouting about. It is important to support local business in these times."

The festival will take on an animals theme, with beers from breweries Fat Cat, Icen, Woodforde's, Adnams, Green Jack, Mauldons, Old Cannon, Milton and many more will be available. Locally produced cider will also be on sale.

There will also be live music on the Friday and Saturday nights and at lunchtimes on the Sunday and Monday.

The festival runs from noon on Thursday, April 9 until the Bank Holiday Monday.

The festival coincides with CAMRA's first ever National Cask Ale Week, which runs from the April 6-13 and aims to get more people drinking real ale.

Hospital following the crash on the A143 road near Highpoint prison, Stradishall on May 5 last year.

Povey, of High Street, Stansfield, Suffolk, previously denied the charge. But he changed his plea when he appeared before Ipswich Crown Court on Thursday last week.

He was released on bail to return to court during the week beginning April 20 to be sentenced.

Mrs Gatt, of Cavendish Court, Haverhill, worked for Haverhill Care Force.

Povey and a passenger in the Citroen were seriously injured and spent some time in hospital.

BLOWING EGGS

Way before children filled their days with computer games and social networking, blowing eggs was a popular pastime.

Simply take a pin to the large end of an egg and make a hole. Do the same at the other end, but make this a bit bigger by turning the pin as you push it in.

Then, with the egg over a sink or bowl, put your mouth (or straw if you prefer) over the smaller hole and blow so the egg comes out of the other end.

Once emptied fill up the egg with water (through the largest hole), then cover up both ends and give it a good shake. Let the water out and the shells set too firmly so the two halves will fit together.

Then get out your paint set, glitter and accessories and get decorating!

AN EGG AND SPOON RACE

If egg blowing sounds too fiddly, hard boil some eggs and invite some of your children's friends (and their parents) around for a traditional egg and spoon race. Head to your local park if you don't have enough outside space.

MAKE YOUR OWN CHOCOLATE EGGS

Beat the credit crunch, keep the kids occupied and avoid a last-minute dash to the shops by making your own chocolate eggs.

Chocolate egg moulds are cheap to buy – then you just need to melt some cooking chocolate and pour it in. Make sure the edges are flat before the shells set too firmly so the two halves will fit together.

Once they're set, 'glue' the two halves together with more melted chocolate, or simply wrap ribbon around them both.

Lots of fun: And once you're done, they taste nice too!

EASTER EGG HUNT

You're never too old to get caught up in the excitement of an Easter egg hunt. Plant some small chocolate eggs around your garden – or a small area of your local park – and watch the fun unfold. Turn it into a treasure hunt by leaving clues rather than eggs at every spot.

FAMILY DAYS OUT – THE NATIONAL TRUST EASTER EGG TRAIL

If you like little culture but don't think your children will appreciate the finery of a stately home, head to one of the National Trust properties that are hosting Easter Egg Trails. Visit www.eastereggtrails.co.uk to find the nearest participating venue.

MAKE YOUR OWN EGG CUP

There's no better time to head to a DIY pottery centre to make – and then decorate – your own egg cup. Get the whole family involved and you'll end up with a complete set!

Council slams landfill claims

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

COUNCILS have rejected claims that material sent for recycling is ending up in landfill sites.

The Suffolk Recycling Consortium, which manages recycling with Viridor for six councils including Forest Heath District Council and neighbouring St Edmundsbury Borough Council, has urged householders to keep sorting waste into separate bins.

The consortium was responding to national media reports that the economic downturn has led to more recyclable materials being dumped.

The consortium's partner, Viridor Waste Management Ltd, which sorts, separates and markets the material, has confirmed that it continues to maintain contracts with customers and is able to find markets.

The material, nearly 40,000 tonnes, is traded in a global market and is sent to processors in the UK as well as Europe, China and the Indian sub-continent.

Audit trail: firms track every consignment of waste to ensure it is being recycled.

Viridor maintains a detailed audit trail of every consignment sent abroad to ensure that the material is properly handled and is ultimately processed into new products, according to a statement issued by the councils.

Malcolm Firth, chairman of the consortium, said: "Suffolk residents should be reassured that the material they put out for recycling is being sent for processing and not finishing up in landfill sites."

"Although it has been reported that some councils have had to stockpile or even suspend collection services, this is not the case in Suffolk."

But the councils admitted there have been "steep falls" in the prices paid for reclaimed materials.

Mr Firth said: "The business is not immune from the current economic downturn, which means the price the consortium pays for every tonne recycled will have to increase unless or until the economy improves."

Tousled rockers, hairy fairies and a pup with super powers

PLUG in for an electric performance of vintage rock, as AC/DC tribute act Live/Wire prepare to Walk All Over the UK and into Haverhill tomorrow.

The event at the arts centre, from 8pm, brings to life both the Bon Scott and Brian Johnson eras with two very individual singers in the same explosive performance.

It features all the classics, including Whole Lotta Rosie, Highway to Hell, and Back In Black as well as a rock-hard rhythm section and frenzied fretboard antics, and fans can save £2 per ticket by buying in advance!

■ There's a fairy and furry treat for kids, as the People's Theatre Company brings Bink and the Hairy Fairy to the centre on Wednesday, April 8, at 2.30pm. Featuring princesses, powerful wizards, a kingdom of elves, and something altogether more magical... and just a teensy bit hairier, the performance is aimed at children aged 3 to 10. There is also a pre-show workshop at 1.30pm (included in ticket price) so little ones can learn all they need to know about the characters, the songs and most importantly who to hiss and boo at. Please let the box office know if your children want to go along for the workshop prior to the show.

■ Written by Peter Morgan (The Queen, The Other Boleyn Girl) the film

Frost/Nixon (15) is an electrifying battle based on the real-life television interviews between Richard Nixon, the disgraced president with a legacy to save, and David Frost a young British presenter with a name to make. The battle begins tonight at 7.45pm!

■ Milk (15) showing on Wednesday, April 8, at 7.45pm not only won Sean Penn a surprise Oscar for Best Actor but Dustin Lance Black won Best Original Screenplay as well. Cancelling the after show party turned out to be a big mistake!

It focuses on Harvey Milk, who in 1977, became the first openly gay man to be voted into major public office in America and from senior citizens to union workers, he set about fighting for human rights.

Sean Penn gives a subtle, understated performance that perfectly captures Milk's humanity and humility.

■ Easter holiday cinema starts with Bolt (PG) showing on Thursday, April 9; Tuesday, April 14; Wednesday, April 15; and Thursday, April 16; at 10.30am. Its namesake is Bolt, a superstar pup who has lived his whole life on the set of his action TV show, believes he has the superpowers of his on-screen character. When he finds himself all alone in New York he learns that he is just an ordinary dog and must rely on his new friends Mittens the cat and Rhino the hamster to get home. With the voice of John Magic and mischief: Bink and the Hairy Fairy float into the arts centre next week. CP.

Travolta among others, this film is sure to keep the youngsters amused.

■ The Secret of Moonacre (U) starring Dakota Blue Richards, Tim Curry and Ioan Gruffudd is showing at 2.30pm on Thursday, April 9 and 16. When Maria Merryweather's father dies, she is forced to go and live with an eccentric uncle, at Moonacre Manor. Through a mysterious book left to her by her father, Maria finds herself entangled in a bitter feud between the Merryweather and De Noir families over a set of magical pearls.

Dreaming of a Technicolor Christmas

ELEVEN jealous brothers, a pharaoh who bears a remarkable resemblance to Elvis and a very spoilt boy in a flamboyant jacket?

Yes, Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat is back!

The Cambridge Corn Exchange has just announced that the favourite family musical will be this year's Christmas show, so brace yourselves for some of the best-known songs in musical theatre history, including Any Dream Will Do, Close Ev'ry Door To Me and One More Angel. Written nearly 40 years ago by Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice, Joseph remains as fresh and colourful as ever, and Bill Kenwright's production has enjoyed huge success. "We are delighted to announce that Joseph is coming to Cambridge for Christmas," says marketing manager, Neil Jones.

"It is without doubt one of the most popular musicals of all time, and the renewed interest since the hit BBC TV series Any Dream Will Do promises to make it the perfect night out."

Boy band flies in for close up

PREPARE for throngs of screaming teens to be marauding in the city's streets on May 10 – pop favourites McFly have just announced that they're coming to the Cambridge Corn Exchange.

The popsters frequently fill up, and sell out stadiums and arenas around the world with thousands of their adoring fans, but this spring they've decided to embark on what they're calling an Up Close . . . but this Time it's Personal tour of just 14 theatre-sized venues. Why? To "thank our most loyal fans at smaller shows."

For tickets, visit www.cornex.co.uk or call (01223) 357851.

HAVERHILL mayor Les Ager invites you to Come Dancing, presented by Roger Chinery and the Len Ebbage Sound.

Taking place tomorrow at 7.30pm, for an 8pm start at Grampian

Sports and Social Club, Little Wratting, tickets are £8.50 and all proceeds will be donated to the mayor's charities, including the Weekly News £40,000 Hospice at Home appeal for St Nicholas Hospice.

BY STEPHEN EXLEY

THE line-up for the 45th Cambridge Folk Festival has been announced.

The event, packed with acts from all over the globe, includes favourites such as three-time Grammy Award winner Lucinda Williams, playing her only UK festival date, and indie band The Zutons.

The line-up, dubbed "eclectic and exciting" by organisers, also includes iconic instrumentalist and songwriter Booker T Jones, who is releasing his first album in 10 years, and perennial crowd-pleasers The Saw Doctors and Jim Moray.

The announcement comes days after a Cambridge City Council report admitted it had failed to follow its own rules in awarding a contract to run the festival to SecureTicket UK, which went into liquidation after the 2008 event, leaving the council out of pocket by more than £600,000.

Top female singer-songwriters are also on the bill at this year's event, including American songstress Beth Nielsen Chapman, Scotland's Eddi Reader and Irish folk singer Cara Dillon.

A festival spokeswoman said: "An eclectic and exciting bill, featuring the best in contemporary folk and roots music, has been announced by Europe's most acclaimed folk festival."

"The festival's reputation for quality music in intimate surroundings means tickets are set to sell out quickly."

Other highlights include appearances by Blazin' Fiddles, dubbed Scotland's top live traditional band, cult Los Angeles-based Mexican-American outfit Los Lobos – famous for their worldwide 80s hit La Bamba – and comedian Adrian Edmondson, star of The Young Headliners: the Zutons will be at this year's Cambridge Folk Festival.

Ones and Bottom, who will be appearing with his band The Bad Shepherds.

Irish guitarist and singer-songwriter Paul Brady is making his only appearance in England at the annual event at Cherry Hinton Hall, with seminal English folk group The Waterson Family playing together for the first time since their famous Royal Albert Hall show two years ago.

Tickets go on sale at 9am on Sunday, May 17.

Tickets for the full festival cost £104, with day tickets priced at £35 for Friday or £46 for Saturday and Sunday. Camping at Coldham's Common costs an extra £32.

Tickets can be booked by calling (01223) 357851 or at www.cambridgefolkfestival.co.uk

New Listings Required to keep the market moving

YOUR MOVE in Haverhill have continued their strong start to 2009 with more great sales being achieved in March. The local market has continued to see strong buying enquiries and excellent viewing figures and new property coming to the market, at realistic prices is generating immediate interest from people now in positions to proceed, which is a stark contrast to the market last year.

Local Manager Darren Baugh commented "Although we are only at the start of April, the housing market this year is remarkably different. Whereas 2008 saw lots of choice on the market and very few buyers who had the confidence or ability to buy, 2009 sees a situation of less stock being on the market to meet the needs of more buyers looking to purchase. This is a much needed shift in the balance of supply and demand in favour of the seller, which on the face of it is good news, but it still remains the fact that pricing the house at the correct level for the market is essential and in Haverhill and the surrounding villages we need to see new houses coming to the market to benefit from this. Many sellers still feel the market is turbulent and that they will struggle to sell but we stand by our view point that if you can buy and sell in the same market, there is nothing to lose."

Rightmove reported on 16th March that there has been a 57% fall in new listings for the month (79,000 for March compared to 182,000 last year) and this also fit the local picture in and around Haverhill. They also reported buyer enquiries were up by 120% on last year and again YOUR MOVE are continuing to see more buyer registrations across the market. Darren further commented "At this time of year you always see a rise in activity as we are close to the better spring weather and lighter nights and many buyers are keen to get moved into their new home before the summer comes along and we are seeing this rise when it comes to viewings and general enquiries but we need to see more motivated sellers who can use the 15-20% reductions in values as a positive springboard to go on buy a home. There is activity at all price ranges within the market and viewings are on the up each week at present so by marketing early you can benefit from this."

Another good reason for listing your house now is due to the impending change in Home Information Pack legislation due on April 6th. This will effect the first day marketing rule which currently means you can place your house on the market as soon as the HIP is ordered. After this date you will need to wait to have a physical copy of the pack before any marketing can commence so if you are thinking of being on the market over the Easter period by delaying marketing now, you could miss out on a potentially busy period for viewings as it could take your agent or HIP Provider a matter of weeks to get all the required documents together. This date will also see a new element to the HIP called a property information questionnaire (PIQ) which should give buyers even more up front information about the house they are considering buying.

Why sell the traditional way?

Get Estate Agents to value it and put it on the market.

Show people around the property (mostly "nosy parkers" & sightseers).

If no offers received after 2 or 3 months, reduce price.

Show more people around.

Eventually accept an offer at between 5 & 10% off the advertised price.

Hope the sale doesn't fall through (over 30% of sales don't reach completion).

Once price agreed, wait a further 3 months for sale to complete.

Work out how many £000s it has cost you in reducing the price, making mortgage payments, paying Estate Agents fees and legal fees since you started the process (on average, 7 months ago...)

Sell your property the CXG way...

The simple alternative

- Pay no Estate Agent's fees
- Pay no Legal fees
- No further mortgage payments
- Have cash within days (Instead of months)

Kia's seven-year – used! – warranty

NOT content with offering the best new car warranty in Europe, EMG Kia has gone even further, now offering up to seven year's warranty, even on a used car!

From April, Cambridge locals buying an approved used Kia up to 18 months old with no more than 18,000 miles on the clock can get the warranty topped back up to the same level as if they were buying the car from new. That means that for under £10,000, customers could get a used cee'd with a seven-year warranty – making this the best used car offer around.

And just in case EMG Kia's bumper-to-bumper seven-year warranty isn't enough to tempt buyers into an approved used Kia, every car comes with a full service history, 88-point inspection, 60-day exchange programme and two years European breakdown cover.

Danny Emmerton, sales manager at EMG Kia said: "We have such faith in the quality of our products that we can now offer customers the best approved used car programme on the market. Just because you are buying second hand, doesn't mean you have to be treated as second class. Why should used customers miss out on all the benefits that come with a new car?"

The Mazda3 three-door and four-door: Prices remain the same.

Mazda3 prices held over April

THE Mazda3 is a best-seller globally and its popularity in the UK is boosted this spring by the availability of 14 "Great Buys" with five generous equipment levels, a choice of six powertrains and prices fixed until April 30.

Representing great value, Mazda3 prices, which start at just £11,201, have not risen since mid-2008 and a selection of typical 0 per cent, 4.9 per cent and 5.9 per cent APR finance packages are now available.

"Today, as customers focus even more sharply on exactly what car they can get for their money, the Mazda3 line-up presents 14 truly great buys," commented Mark Cameron, sales and marketing director, Mazda UK.

End of the road
for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF)

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility.

We pay up to £100

BUSINESS SUPPORT MANAGER – EAST OF ENGLAND REGIONAL CONTROL CENTRE
Based at Cambridge Business Park, Waterbeach, Cambridgeshire CB25 9AP
Salary : £41,364 – £45,855 (pay award due from 1/7/09). Hours : 37 per week

FiReControl is a major strategic change project which will influence the way Fire and Rescue Services will work in the future. It will provide, through 9 newly constructed regional control centres, advanced 999 call handling, resource mobilisation and communication technology. This project will also strengthen and enhance civil resilience through creating mutual backup between centres and the capacity to deal with high demand conditions.

Working to the Regional Control Centre Chief Executive, and alongside the Senior Operations Manager, the Business Support Manager will be responsible for the management of all aspects of the organisation needed to support operational delivery. This includes managing contracts, or directly employed staff, providing Human Resources, Finance, Facilities Management, ICT support and Procurement. As a 24/7/365 service supporting Fire and Rescue Services in 6 counties, a robust and resilient approach to this critical area is vital.

The responsibilities of this role will be as varied as they are challenging. During start up you will be involved in the establishment of key support functions, whether outsourced or in-house, and the development of relevant strategies and policies. Once the Control Centre is operational, you will have responsibility for the effective and efficient day-to-day management of all support functions, whether provided through contract or directly managed staff. In addition, you will have the opportunity to influence the national picture, via involvement with a network of colleagues from the other 8 Regional Control Centres.

To be considered, you must possess experience of procurement and contract management, which may have been gained in the public or private sector. You will also have evidence of having managed a range of support services, potentially including Facilities Management, ICT, Finance, Human Resources, Property and Asset Management.

The successful candidate will possess excellent communication, leadership and analytical skills, as well as proven diplomacy and negotiating skills. Prior to go-live (late 2011/early 2012), both national and regional travelling will be required, accompanied by occasional overnight stays.

Details should be requested by contacting Karen.mariott@communities.gsi.gov.uk. Packs will be sent out via e-mail. For any queries, including an informal discussion about the post, please contact Karen on 07867 644660.

Completed Application forms must be returned by 1st May at 09.00
CVs will NOT be accepted in place of an application form.

Please note that the Assessment day will take place on 21st May 2009.

RUGBY UNION

Daly's efforts spare the Haverhill blushes

TWO individual tries from Sam Daly made the score more presentable as Haverhill U14 lost 29-12 to their Bury counterparts on Sunday.

Early expectations were soon extinguished as the home side lost its shape and came out second best in too many areas.

A bumper crowd came out to view the Haverhill side for the last time at home this season, and, for the first 10 minutes, it looked as if they were in for a treat as the hosts attacked with meaning, secured the ball in the rucks and supplied the ball quickly out to the three-quarters, for which they were rewarded with a Daly try, converted by Toby Pink.

As the minutes ticked on, Bury started to dominate as Haverhill failed to stick to their gameplan and started to struggle. Bury ran in three tries to lead 17-7 at half time.

Captain Harry Marsh demanded more effort from his team, and, within three minutes of the restart, Daly had caught a clearance kick to dart past a wall of defenders to make it 17-12.

For a while, it looked as if Haverhill would turn the game around and score a pushover try, but again lost possession, leaving Bury to race upfield for a well-executed try. The rest of the match saw the home side on the back foot, working hard to contain their opponents. To Haverhill's credit, their efforts limited Bury to two tries in the second half to make a final score of 29-12.

Quick hands: Haverhill scrum-half Toby Pink getting the ball away under the watchful eye of referee Mark Jury and a Bury opponent. CP

Adam is three times the star

Hadleigh 20 Haverhill 25

EASTERN COUNTIES LEAGUE, DIVISION TWO

ADAM Hunt was the star turn for Haverhill as they edged to victory at Hadleigh on Saturday.

A couple of errors from kick-offs had allowed Hadleigh to rack up 17 points in the first half, but Haverhill were not too far behind, and surged into the lead after the break.

Hunt got a hat-trick, while Jake Plumridge kicked three conversions and two penalties.

Skipper Paul Bergin said: "It was a good win as all our tries were very well worked."

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

Gunners slip up

Huntingdon Rowdies U15 2
Grampian Gunners U15 1

CAMBRIDGE & DISTRICT COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 15A

HUNTINGDON gained revenge for the previous week's loss at Grampian with a narrow victory. The visitors paid the price for a woeful first half that saw them two down at the break.

The second half saw Grampian finally get into their stride, with Bailey going close from Youngs' through ball and Guyon slotting home after another good ball from the skipper.

Debutant Charlie Sigler put Pryke in, only for his shot to rebound off a post.

Hundon Hawks U16 1 Bar Hill U16 2

CAMBRIDGE & DISTRICT COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 16B

HAWKS let their chance of making up ground on the league leaders slip away with an indifferent display.

They started brightly and created several chances, including a penalty, which was saved by the Bar Hill keeper.

Against the run of play, Tom Boyce cracked home a 35-yard piledriver, but it was no surprise when Bar Hill equalised from a free kick. The second half saw Bar Hill grab the winner after poor Hawks' marking at a corner.

Haverhill Rovers U16 4
Chatteris Town U16 1

CAMBRIDGE & DISTRICT COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 16C

ROVERS started the brighter, forcing Chatteris on to the back foot.

Good pressure paid off when Ashcroft was brought down in the box, but Bavester's penalty was saved. It was not long before Bavester made amends with a good finish to make it 1-0 at half time.

Chatteris defended well after the break, but Bavester added his second before the visitors pulled one back.

Bavester scored again to complete his hat-trick and then set up Edwards to complete the scoring.

West Watting U12 6 Bottisham U12 0

CAMBRIDGE & DISTRICT COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 12D

WRATTING got into their stride with early goals from Stevenson and Lambert.

Cooper raced clear for a third and Lambert made it 4-0 at half time.

The second half saw Lambert complete his hat-trick and Cooper add the sixth.

Withersfield U12 7 Chatteris U12B 0

CAMBRIDGE & DISTRICT COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 12A

MURRAY Barker put Withersfield a goal up, getting on the end of a through ball from Henly Kennedy.

Despite the plucky efforts of the Chatteris keeper, Withersfield added further goals through Joe Baker, Kennedy and Nathan Banks as the result moved the hosts to the top of the table.

Haverhill Rovers U10 0
Grampian Gunners U10 A 4

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10A

WESTLEY opened the scoring with a fine shot, which he followed up with a second before the break.

The second half saw both sides create opportunities, but it was Jones who increased Gunners' advantage.

The Rovers' goalkeeper made some good saves before Westley's corner went in off a defender to complete the scoring.

Spartak 78 U10B 0 Aztecs U10A 5

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10B

AZTECS took the lead in the first half when a through ball from Tom Howard set up Toby Goodship to score.

Callum Hayes blasted a free kick through the crowded penalty area to make it 2-0 at half time.

Spartak started the second half well as Aztecs goalkeeper Ben Linsdell gained his player-of-the-match award with some fine saves.

Alastair Green scrambled home from close range, and, as the home side began to tire, Hayes scored twice to complete his hat-trick and Aztecs' nap hand.

West Watting U11 10
Wilbraham Warriors U11 0

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 11A

THE play was fairly even until Watting took the lead through Charlie Ellam.

Watting then started to play some fine football, as more goals followed through Liam Gibbs, Mo Horsley and man-of-the-match Matt Carpenter (2) to make it 5-0 at half time.

The second half followed the same pattern with Wilbraham giving a spirited effort before Ellam, Gibbs, an own goal, Horsley and Leyton George netted to finish the game at 10-0.

Hero Hunt

ARRENDENE Athletic made easy work of Treadfirst Sudbury & District, Division Four strugglers Silksworm with a 6-2 victory.

Paul Hunt gave them an early lead and the advantage was doubled by the same player.

A rare error by defender Ben

Fisher allowed Silksworm to pull one back, but Athletic replied instantly through Richard Bright.

In the second half, Hunt added his third and fourth goals before Silksworm replied.

Captain Matt McBrien added Athletic's sixth.

Lowly Delaware Feather Angels returned to action, desperately striving to get some points on the board against North Street Tavern.

Lacking in numbers and self-confidence, all they had to show for their efforts in a 5-1 defeat was a Matt Cullen strike.

FOOTBALL: LATEST NEWS FROM HAMLET CROFT

Rovers in late agony

Off target: Richard Heller.

BASEMENT boys Haverhill suffered a 2-0 defeat at Stanway in the Ridgeons League, Premier Division on Tuesday night after conceding two late goals.

Richard Heller went close for Rovers midway through the first half and Shaun Banham also made the keeper pull off a fine save on 65 minutes.

But the hosts scored twice in the last 14 minutes to send the visitors to defeat.

Haverhill's home match with King's Lynn reserves at the weekend was postponed because of a waterlogged pitch. But they will not have to wait long to take on their fellow strugglers as they travel to the Norfolk side on Saturday.

Boss Peter Betts will be hoping his side, who are nine points adrift at the foot of the table, can end their dismal seven-game winless run in the league.

Goals have been hard to come by for Rovers in the last six weeks, with the net bulging just four times in those last seven outings.

But Haverhill will fancy their chances of stopping the rot as King's Lynn reserves are on an even more woeful run themselves, having been victorious once in their last 10 league matches.

They have also lost each of their last six fixtures and have conceded three goals or more in four of those defeats.

And three points on the road at the weekend will give Betts' charges a much-needed boost ahead of a run of five consecutive league games at home.

Rovers seeking young talent

ARE you between the ages of five and 11 and desperate to play football?

Haverhill Rovers have teamed up with Samuel Ward Technology College and Darren and Joe White of Little Legends Soccer Co to provide footballing opportunities to young boys and girls in the local community.

Both coaches are professionally qualified, CRB checked and fully insured. They currently carry out a lot of work in the local primary schools.

Rovers are preparing to form new teams over the summer, so if you (or your child) wants to play in a fun, safe and productive environment send them along to Samuel Ward (sports hall) every Saturday morning, from 10.30am to noon.

They will need shin pads, trainers and plenty to drink (non fizzy). Each session is £3 for 90 minutes' training with a level 3 coach.

For more information on the Mini Soccer Development School, Haverhill Rovers Youth or to offer your support in managing a team or helping in other volunteering roles, please email: hrcfc@hotmail.com or phone 07966 373 412.
